Screening-9:30 to 11:30
in LOB 2nd floor Atrium

Community Outreach begins with Caring

" I am proud to be part of this initiative of Doctors working for a better tomorrow and caring for those who put their lives on the line to keep Connecticut Safe."

- Phil Kerr, MD CT Derm Society President

Join experts : Michael Girardi, MD, Yale Dermatology for a brief talk on : Melanoma and Firefighters and Phillip Kerr, MD Chief of Dermatology at UCONN medical center talking on " Community and the ties that bind us."

Firefighters risk their lives every day, whether running into burning buildings or battling out-of-control wildfires, as recently witnessed in California, but the menace doesn't come just from the fire. They may face an increased risk for developing melanoma, the most dangerous of the three most common types of skin cancer. The Dermatology MD community look forward to seeing you.
